Progress Update - October 25, 2026

First, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to all of the Executive Producers. We recognize the time, patience, and effort you have invested in this relationship. We remain dedicated to completing this project.

Here is a progress update outlining our current funding activities and potential timelines as we work toward completing this transaction with the lender in Switzerland. Securing the required Surety Bond is a key step in that process. The bond triggers the release of funds from the lender, and obtaining it requires an initial deposit.

Current Funding Sources and Activities

We are actively pursuing several funding opportunities at the same time, including the following:

1. Independent Investor

Recently, we met with an independent investor about a potential investment, and discussions are continuing.

2. Institutional Partnership: Licensing Opportunity

We are in discussions with an institutional partner regarding a licensing and consulting arrangement connected to a humanitarian development initiative.

3. Independent Qualified Investor

This opportunity is on hold while the investor attends to personal matters.

4. Group of Qualified Investors

We are in ongoing discussions with a group of qualified investors to finalize terms and documentation to their satisfaction.

5. Real Estate Properties

We are actively working toward the sale of two real estate properties located in Ohio, with proceeds intended to go toward the Surety Bond requirement.

6. Internal Executive Producer Funding Initiative

As an additional option, we are evaluating an internal capital-raising initiative involving members of our existing Executive Producer team to help cover any remaining funding shortfall.

These efforts individually represent from $50,000 to $500,000 in potential funding toward the Surety Bond requirement and related transaction costs.

Possible funding timelines for these efforts range from approximately 30 to 60 days, subject to completing the necessary arrangements and finalizing transaction requirements. These timelines are estimates only and may shift depending on how discussions with each party progress.

Clarification Regarding Our Progress Updates

Because we are actively managing several funding discussions at once, with information, documentation, and responses arriving at different times, our reports may sometimes appear incremental rather than conclusive.

Our intention is to maintain transparency with you throughout this process, sharing updates as they happen rather than waiting until every opportunity reaches a final outcome. At the same time, certain negotiation details are confidential while those conversations are ongoing, out of respect for the parties involved. We appreciate your patience as we coordinate these moving parts.

Closing Statement

We continue to work with multiple investors, institutional partners, real estate opportunities, and internal resources to secure the necessary funding. While each opportunity carries its own requirements and timeline, we remain fully committed to bringing The First Birthday Party Ever!™ to the global entertainment marketplace.

Respectfully,

Keith Johnson
